

DECEMBER 17, 2007

PRESS RELEASE

LEADING ARTISTS HANG OUT IN FOYER AT NOVOTEL PACIFIC BAY RESORT

The works of two of Australia's most collectible artists, John Dahlsen and Colin Heaney, are now on display at Novotel Pacific Bay Resort Coffs Harbour.

Dahlsen, an internationally acclaimed environmental artist whose paintings were hung in the house used in the recent Big Brother television series and Heaney, a respected Gold Coast artist, are two of a number of artists whose works are presently being showcased by the resort courtesy of Coffs Harbour's Greenstone Gallery.

Others are Vivienne Crisell and Maryanne Priest from Coffs Harbour, Lyndy Delian from Canberra, Carly Brett from Newcastle and Pauline Jollow from Taree.

The paintings, which are for sale, will be on display in the resort foyer throughout the Christmas school holidays.

Since opening twelve months ago Greenstone Gallery has launched several successful art exhibitions and expanded its stable of artists whose works are displayed on a six week rotational basis at Novotel Pacific Bay Resort.

For further information call Novotel Pacific Bay Resort on 1300 363 360 or Greenstone Gallery on 02 6656 2656.

- end -

For information, images, contacts or comment contact the media contact.

MEDIA CONTACT: Donna Parkin /Parkin P.R. & Marketing

> ph: 07 3353 5350 > m: 0419 742 573

> email: parkinpr@bigpond.net.au

COFFS HARBOUR
PACIFIC BAY